Pistol Club ...

A very enjoyable weekend was spent by the members who travelled to Broken Hill for the Far Western Zone Pistol Championships. Unfortunately, the weather turned nasty, and did nothing to improve the scores, but the hospitality shown by the host Club, and the friendly reunions with past acquaintances were not dampened at all. I believe the "poker" machines only claimed one or two victims also. The following results were achieved - and congratulations to all shooters.

	50 m	Rapid Fire	Std Gun	Ladies Match Centre Fire	Air Pistol
R Ellis	479(B)	536(C)			356(B)

Bees!

Many people have noticed swarms of bees in their yards in the last few weeks. These bees are in abundance due to the good seasons of the last three years, causing the bees to breed up in the creeks around the town. When the bees fill their hive, which is usually in a hole in a tree, they split their numbers in two, and half leave the old hive with a new queen and fly off to a new area to find a new home.

The queen lands on a tree or fence, and all her subjects land on her to protect her. This mass of bees is called a "swarm". The swarm will then hang while groups of bees scout for a new hollow to move into.

If you notice a number of bees flying around your windows these are scout bees and should be left well alone. They will go away in about a day if they don't find a hole to go into.

The bees in a swarm are very quiet, and will not sting unless disturbed. They will only stay till they find a hole to go to. If a swarm lands in your yard, keep away from it and leave it alone. It will probably go in a day or two. Instruct your children not to throw stones at it.

Should the swarm be in a dangerous place e.g. hanging over a path, then Peter Shooter or Terry Hickey will remove it. Also should a swarm move into a shed or box, Peter & Terry will remove it. Should a hive move into your chimney, light a fire if you have an open fireplace, or hang a 'shelltox' strip in it.

Bees are to be respected, but not feared. Leave them alone, and normally they will leave you alone.

If stung, scratch the sting out with your finger nail, DON'T pinch it to pull it out, as the poison sac is on the end and squeezing will only inject the poison. Dress the sting with ammonia or blue bag or anti-histamine cream.

Coming Soon!

On THURSDAY, 6th November, a

COUNTRY & WESTERN

night will be held in the Yulu Lounge at the Canteen.

It will take the form of an informal get-to-gether of those people interested in this type of music.

If you play ANY instrument or can present ANY item to make this night a success, please contact:-

Mr Peter HENTY-SMITH

at the Canteen.
