GOLFGABBER

SUNDAY - 17 July - 3rd Triangle / HAWKER - Stableford. : On arrival at Hawker we enveloped a tasty protein-packed dinner of chops and snags, - yum yum!!

Our team displayed a variety of moods and talents. Some played like a nachel born Nicklaus; others like a prematurely born, half-baked NICKLAUS; some disliked the 'NICK' part, and played like pure bred 'LAUS'; others detested louse and played like mischievous Old 'NICK' Himself. ONE, used to worship TREVINO, he's have TRE(3)VINO every day..and the rest.. until he heard Horace Greeley's clarion call, .. "Go West young man! Go West!!!". So, whereas formerly, any old Port would do, now he's thoroughly directional,.. "It's West-End for me", 'e says, "with Y'East, up North, in South To." But he didn't misunderstand our Club's desperate call, he responded, came to Hawker, and nearly top-scored the day. "Thank YOOD, Sir", keep comin' along, - the glen of our course is still runnin', but there're no can-cockles anymower.

In fascination, I watched Hawker Ladies artistically arrange supper,..like plots of beautiful flowers and shrubs upon a shining lawn of marble laminex. At our Host's invitation, the Assembly converged upon the table in one concerted action of "help-yourself", and the food gradually diminished like water from a plug-pulled bathtub, until everyone was f'llup and the table h'empty, .. a smooth and happy metamorphosis.

Our home-coming was expedited by the prowess of the new bus and also by all aboard, young, old, male & female, joining spontaneously in the 'sing-along' which was interspersed by excellent solo renditions by talented artists. Our President's interpretation of "Danny Boy" had that authentic Irish lilt that warmed the cockles of our hearts. Glen Weymouth's rendition of "Old MacDonald had a Farm and Sushanna's Pigs", wrecked the warm cockles of our hearts 'cause of erupting hilarious convulsions. (You naughty boy!). Many others kept the moo-sic rollin' along. Even the NEW BUS joined in the spirit of the occasion, everytime we sang "Daisy", it gave a practical demonstration of that moving old favourite - "Grandfather's Clock", - IT stopped SHORT !! The presence of Associates and young'uns was a comforting 'touch of home abroad' all day. "Thanks Kel" for a superb performance, and Uncle ETSA for the added comfort of the new Bus - we were the transport-envy of the day.

Results: this is the nearest we've ever approached Hawker's score.
HAWKER 1451 pts; LEIGH CREEK 1438 pts; BLINMAN 1243 pts.

SUNDAYS - July 24/31 & Aug 7th - CHAMPIONSHIP QUALIFYING ROUNDS

These rounds resulted in the 'draw' for the Elimination Rounds.

NEXT SUNDAY - 14th August - 1st Elimination Round - MATCH rest STROKE.
Draw for Eliminations: -

'A' GRADE	'B' GRADE	'C' GRADE
J Adair v L Dorton	J Dejanovic v R Lawson	G Gray v bye
	H Lucas v M Campillo	F Reed v W Moorman
	B Reye v B Van Gasteren	J Binnekamp v B Mc Clerey
	G Weymouth v B McPherson

Players not in Eliminations, will be playing for a trophy for the day.

WINE & CHEESE TASTING EVENING:

Again it was our pleasure to host many happy people. Some came from as far as Whyalla and said it was worth coming for. At auction-time, a Fella was bidding feverishly for a coveted bottle, but a female voice was repeatedly 'upping' him. Eventually they realised, - they were husband and wife. Our Patron, Mr Ray Gray, briefly related some interesting and amusing 'cutlets' from his American tour, presaging the necessity for a general meeting in the Community Hall after his European Tour. All the good wine brightened John Binnekamp's ideas to the extent that he performed a miracle on Sunday (7 Aug), hitting off No. 2 Tee, up the hill, his ball sliced and landed on the Ladies No. 2 Tee, then scrambled aboard a tee left standing there apparently by an Associate or Poppa Lucas, this could be a 'first-ever' in golf history. Elated, he phoned his Mother in Notterdam.

GREEN THUMB PREPARES FOR THE NEW LEIGH CREEK

The new Leigh Creek will need lots of gardening in the early stages to create an environment pleasant to live in.

Many plants may be shifted to the new site, especially small fruit trees, vines and roses. In order to make the shift easier and increase the chances of success, a couple of root prunings in the next two winters are recommended.

Root pruning is done by forcing a sharp spade into the soil in a circle around the plant. The distance back from the plant depends on the plant, but make it not further than the line of the canopy of the tree.

When you root prune, be sure to prune the top as well, in order to keep a good balance between the top and bottom. Failure to prune the top may result in the plant wilting severely in summer. The ratio between roots and leaf is very important.

Root pruning chops the roots back and encourages a ball of roots close to the stem. This makes transplanting much easier in a year or two.

It is also a good practice to water by a dripper or slow trickle close to the plant for the next year, to encourage a confined root growth.

Repeat the process next winter.

* * * * *

Start NOW to plan your gardening for the new town. Good planning and use of correct plants, well suited to this area, can produce a nice to look at, and low maintenance garden.

Use of water will become more and more important with time, so we should design our gardens using plants requiring the minimum of water. This way, we can better afford to heavily water the small parts of our gardens where water is essential e.g. the vegetable patch and the lawn area.

Take note of plants around the town that appeal to you, and appear to do well in dry places. Right now have a look at the small wattle bush in the school yard opposite the Kindy. This is called Acacia Notabilis, and is a local plant, growing naturally in the Flinders Ranges. Very low requirements of water make it a valuable plant to consider. It has a lovely perfume and its abundance of flowers make it a plant of great value. It's in flower now. Take note and keep it in mind.

Our love and "get well quick wishes" are sent to you both.

Ron & Von are slowly making their way through the mail they have received, but ask that you bear with them as the number of cards, flowers and letters received by them has been overwhelmingly wonderful, and they pass on pre-thanks to all.

We extend a warm welcome to our new POST MASTER DON KARUTZ, his wife DENISE and daughters JULIE and SUSAN, previously from CARRAMULKA (York Pen)

RICK F M (Ricky)

It is with extreme regret that we record the death of Mrs FLORENCE (Flo) RICK who for many years was the Guest House attendant and Admin 'tea Lady' before retiring to Arno Bay where she passed away peacefully on 22 July. We extend our deepest sympathy to daughter Pam and family, and to son Bill and family (Perth).

This issue we say a very sad farewell to two very community minded families in SAM & THEO SMITH and family, and PETER & AURIAL MCBAIN and little Dwayn. The Smith family will be moving to Gladstone and the McBains' to Lameroo. Best wishes, lots of luck and please come back and see us all again one of these days.
